

About Us

Samueli Institute is a non-profit research organization supporting the scientific investigation of healing and its role in medicine and health care.

Founded in 2001 by Henry and Susan Samueli, the Institute is advancing the science of healing worldwide. Samueli Institute's focus includes complementary, alternative and integrative medicine, optimal healing environments, relationship-centered care, the role of the mind and lifestyle in healing, health care policy research, and military and veterans health research.
